NCS Communications Engineering Pte. Ltd.

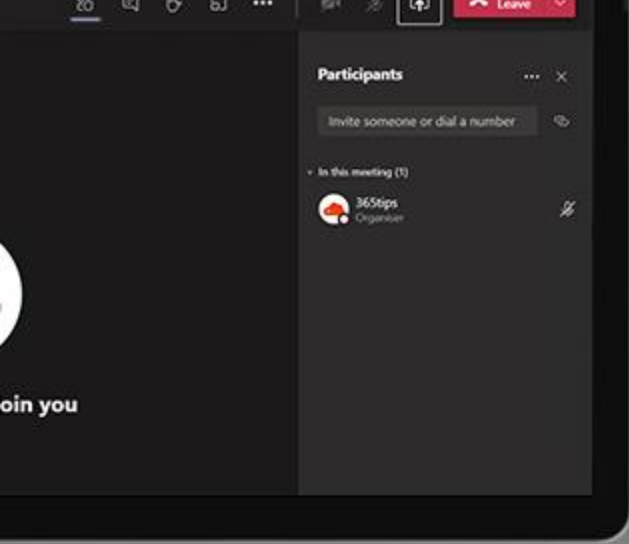

Meet the new Surface Go 3 for Education

Designed for blended and hybrid learning

Deliver better learning experiences whether at home or in the classroom with faster, ultra-versatile, and always-connected Surface Go 3.

Students and educators can attend virtual classes, collaborate on assignments, and access learning apps on our most portable Surface device—delivering the experience of both a laptop and a tablet.

And do it faster than before, with a better processor, built-in Microsoft security.

Enable students and faculty to stay connected

Tune in to virtual class sessions or meetings with Dolby® Audio™ speakers, Studio Mics, a front-facing 5.0 megapixel HD camera, and the high-resolution 10.5" PixelSense™ Display.

Access stable connectivity with fast Wi-Fi 6, and increase equity of access with optional LTE Advanced¹ in areas with unsecured public, slow, or no Wi-Fi.

Travel light and perform fast, with a 2-in-1 that starts at just 1.2 lb.² and a processor with 15% more speed than before.³

Get all-day battery life, up to 11 hours,⁴ plus Fast Charging to take you from low to full faster.

Easily connect Surface Go 3 to view your work on up to two 4K external monitors or cast to a screen at the front of the classroom.

Promote engagement and experiential learning

Switch to whichever mode works best for you using the Type Cover,* with Laptop, Tablet, and Studio modes available for different tasks.

Increase accessibility and inclusivity using tools built into Windows and Microsoft 365,¹ such as Immersive Reader, dictation, live captions, Accessibility Checker, and more.

Leverage the productivity of Microsoft Teams, OneNote, Outlook, and other essential Microsoft 365 apps,¹ designed to work fluidly with Surface devices.

Capture assignments and photos in high-definition with the rear-facing 8.0 megapixel HD camera.
